Denise,

As we discussed in the past, we (DEP) have filed a proposed WQS rule for public comment.

We have only made two changes - the removal of the Category A (public drinking water use) exemption on the Kanawha River and the copper WER for the Charleston Sanitary Board WWTP.

The following is a link to the DEP Rule making page - and all of this info has been posted in the WV Secretary Of States website (and posted in the State Register Today).

I've also attached an information packet (that is available to the public) that I've put together for the proposed WER, and much of the information comes from our discussions on what we need to provide for a proper review and approval by EPA. If you need anything else please let me know.
